

Corpr8 Cling-on

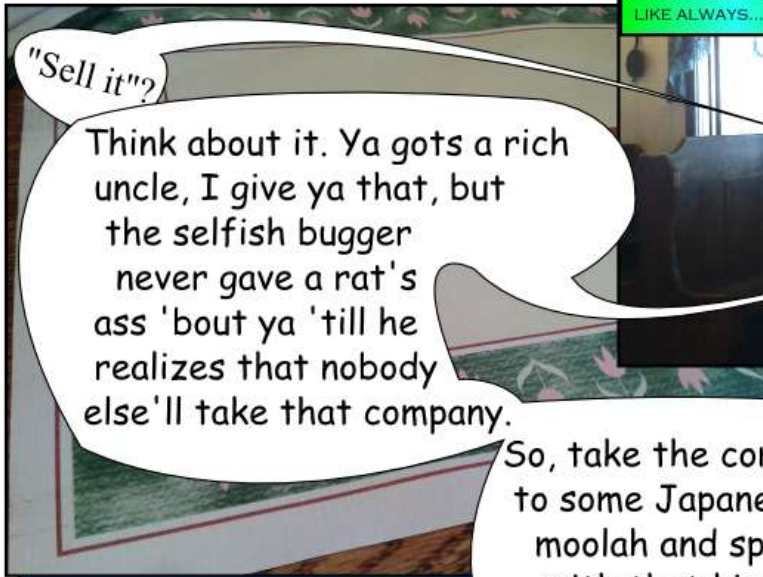

So...

...your uncle died, leaving you the company?

That's right.

So why don't ya just sell it?

"Sell it"?

Think about it. Ya gots a rich uncle, I give ya that, but the selfish bugger never gave a rat's ass 'bout ya 'till he realizes that nobody else'll take that company.

So, take the company, sell it to some Japanese dude, take the moolah and split. We could hall-ass with that kinda dough and get some pretty sweet stuff.

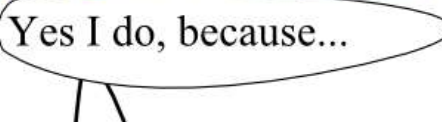

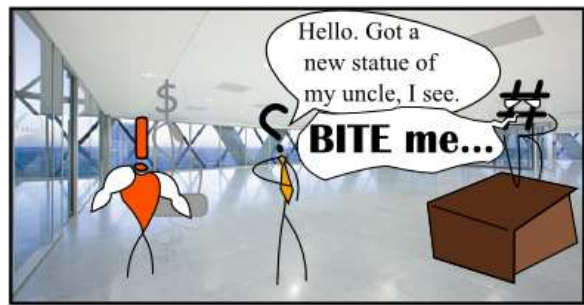

Man, it's not like we're robbin' a bank 'n 'sides--it's not like YOU can run a company...

But it wouldn't sit right with me...

Just promise me you'll think it over... 'K?

Okay.

WHA-?! ?

Okay... Kinda creepy but we can work on that...

"What do I want to be?"

This question has always been with me...

...but not anymore.
